Spruce budworm hits 332,000 acres of local forests

Over 332,000 acres of white spruce and balsam fir have been damaged by the spruce budworm in the Ministry of Natural Resources Minden district, according to a recent press release, and a total of 2.3 million acres are under attack in the Algonquin Region.

This outbreak is part of large infestation in northern Ontario which began in 1967 and now covers all of north-eastern Ontario from Geraldton to the Quebec border. Extensive damage in the Algonquin region was first noticed in 1979.

Budworms usually take about four or five years to kill a balsam fir and between eight and 10 years to kill the sturdier spruce.

The spruce budworm is the larval stage of a small brown moth, which feeds on the needles of mature and over-mature trees until the larvae enter the pupal stage of development.

According to the MNR, budworm outbreaks occur after several years of consecutive warm, dry spring weather in large continuous areas of susceptible forests.

Programs to protect the balsam fir and spruce are not usually undertaken by the MNR as they comprise only about three percent of the forest and are of low value. In certain areas where the spruce and balsam are prominent in high value forests, spraying programs are undertaken to kill the budworms.

The ministry says small spraying programs on private land can be helpful in killing the budworms if the trees are valuable to the owner. If spraying on private land, the owner can contact the ministry for information on the type of spray and methods to be used for the most success.

The ministry emphasizes that spraying programs are only beneficial for one year and forests can be re-infested after spraying in extensive outbreaks.

Although many insecticides are available for spraying the budworms, a bacterial insecticide, bacillus thuringiensis, is suggested for treating balsam fir while a chemical spray is needed to fight the worms on spruce trees.

The ministry suggests property owners should band together when planning to spray their forests and should also get cost estimates two or three spraying companies.

19 business people end year long effort Confusing petition kills hopes for Minden BIA

by Sue Cooper

A petition boasting 19 signatures from Minden business people destroyed any further attempts to establish a business improvement area (BIA) in the downtown core of Minden Village, last Wednesday night.

Later in the week, Anson, Hindon and Minden councillor Stuart Brandon who had spearheaded the project, said rather dejectedly: "It's all over now."

A little more than a year ago, Brandon staged a meeting with area business people and Ministry of Housing officials to outline the possibilities a BIA would allow the village to pursue.

At the meeting, the council chambers were filled with what seemed like enthusiastic supporters as the ministry representatives talked of large and small projects the town could undertake to improve the community.

In the interim, questionnaires had been distributed to the 53 businesses along the main street from the IGA store to the office of Dr. John Purc, and according to Brandon, a large percentage of those questionnaires had returned suggesting the town put in bids for the larger developments projects, which qualify for one percent interest loans from the government.

Earlier this summer a BIA by-law was drawn up by council for the designated area, allowing business people 60 days to object to the proposal.

In response to the circulation of the by-law the municipality received the petition.

"The petition was in answer to a little form that the municipality sent around stating that this was the way...to make a formal challenge within 60 days," Gerry Cox, a businessman who signed the petition, said Monday.

Brandon said the signatures on the petition were enough to kill the BIA proposition before it ever got off the ground.

"All you need is one-third opposed," he said.

Brandon estimated the signatures on the petition represented a little more than a third of the business people involved.

The petition is rather confusing and doesn't seem to state exactly what the business people were suggesting. It reads as follows: "Anson, Hindon and Minden council to be advised that the undersigned conditionally object to the BIA in principle subject to the following conditions. 1) That the amount to be borrowed be determined, and stated, and that this amount be made public to all those concerned! That this amount be approved by the tax area merchants. 'This is to be done prior to the borrowing of any funds!'" 2) That a disbursement map be produced showing amount and exact locations of funds spent. 'This is to be completed before any fiscal transaction by council!'" It is understood that the above conditions will be met by the BIA board made up of local merchants. Do you object to the forming of a BIA? Do you object to financing a town improvement plan? Will you appear at a municipal hearing to voice your objection? If the BIA is formed, control goes to a merchant governing body. 3) That present tax area merchants be allowed to vote on the proposition that the tax base be expanded beyond the perimeter of the present BIA."

The business people signing this confusing petition were: J. Earl Palmer, Q.C., Gerald Cox, Norphoto; Nora Hogg, Miss Nora Hairstyling; K. Prior, bake shop; Ted Madill, Minden Furniture Centre; John Lawson, K & W Restaurant; Elizabeth Car-seem to outline a clear cut question or reason for signing the petition.

"It wasn't apparent what their concerns were. The petition was quite ambiguous," Brandon said.

After council received the petition the meeting with the business people was organized to discover what lay at the root of the petition.

"The meeting was held to determine what they meant and it appears what they meant was to stop the BIA. Which they did," Brandon explained.

"I think everybody had rell, Bill Carrell, Minden Collision; Margaret Harrison, Dominion Hotel; Joe Shapiera, Jadek Sports; Eileen Shapiera, Shoes and Leather; Barbara Gallagher, Partners, P. Dollo, IGA; Wrightman Realty per Norm Harrison; J.B. Denny's, Minden Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Market; Robert MacBrien, Hillside Pro Hardware; Dr. John Purc, dentist office; and Al Conebears, Minden Red and White.

Although the introduction was quite lengthy, it didn't their own reasons for signing the petition or for voting against the BIA. The petition was really a no vote, that's the way I looked at it," Cox said.

Although there might have been many reasons for signing the petition, it was not made clear the petition would defeat the BIA proposal entirely.

On Tuesday, Bob MacBrien, owner of Hillside Pro Hardware said, "It's just fine if they don't go overboard."

A mixture of old and new, Kinmount Fair on this weekend

Organizers have dubbed it the fair with the forward look, but there will be plenty to remind you of earlier days too at this weekend's Kinmount Fair. The grace and power of heavy horses, the glow of a blacksmith's forge and the hiss of steam traction engines are but three echoes of the past that will mingle with the sights and sounds of modern amusements on both days of the fair.

Activities will get underway at 11 a.m. Saturday when the exhibit hall opens. On display will be flower arrangements, jams, quilts, a variety of handicrafts and dozens of other items of interest. A livestock show, expected to draw competitors from across Haliburton and Victoria Counties, gets underway at 11:30 a.m. and will continue throughout the afternoon. A regional Hereford show will also be a feature attraction for those with an interest in the art of raising livestock.

The special Warriors Day parade will wind its way to the fair beginning at 12:30, and will complete its route in front of the grandstand prior to the official opening ceremonies.

People with a talent for entertaining will have a chance to show off their skills in an amateur program which gets underway at 2 p.m.

A grandstand show is also slated for Saturday afternoon featuring Peggy Sue and Sonny Wright, stars of the Grand Ole Opry. The two will also be on hand for the fair

Ratepayers petition council

Apparently frustrated by Anson, Hindon and Minden council's response to pressure from the developers of a subdivision on Sovers Lake, the area ratepayers association is circulating a petition calling on council to stick to a stand it took July 23.

At that time council passed a motion recommending that lake frontages in the proposed plan of subdivision of Couchiching Real Estate Ltd. for the Hislop property on Sovers Lake be increased to a minimum of 150 feet. The motion came in the wake of a presentation from Lew McCarriston, president of the Sovers Lake Ratepayers Association.

At a meeting of council August 13 however, council agreed to take a second vote on the matter at the urging of a planning consultant representing the developers. The vote tied 2-2, and the matter was put over for consideration at council's first meeting in September.

The petition, which is expected to be presented at that meeting, calls on council to "act immediately to increase the minimum lake frontage and minimum area of all future residential lots on Sovers Lake."

Dialysis camp gives kidney patients a break

Unique in the world, Camp Dorset serves people who depend on a machine for life

by Len Plizze

Vacations are a cherished right for most people, an annual event anticipated for months. But for the approximately 2,500 Canadians whose kidneys have ceased to function, a week away from it all is next to impossible. Dependant for life itself on a machine which filters impurities out of their blood, they cannot stay far from home or hospital for more than a day or two. At least three times a week they must spend up to 10 hours linked to a dialysis machine while every ounce of their blood courses through a filtration system.

In Ontario, close to 1000 people have lost all kidney function. Many of them have found the courage and mastered the skills to perform the dialysis procedure at home, but the size of the machine they must use and its complexity, as well as the need for nearby hospital care, have meant a life lead without vacations.

Now however, thanks to the efforts of the Lions club across Ontario, and the consuming dedication of one man in particular, a vacation camp for Ontario's dialysis patients has begun to take shape near Dorset.

Construction of Lions Camp Dorset began in April, 1978 on land leased to the Dorset Lions Club by the Ministry of Natural Resources. So far, eight cottages have been completed, a power house and roads have been built, hydro and telephone services have been installed and work on beach and recreation facilities is well underway. This summer, a further six cottages are expected to be completed, along with a clinic and tennis courts. By the end of 1982, the fifth year of the project, a total of 20 cottages, a clinic, a recreation hall, playing fields, a custodian's residence, a boat house, trailer park and laundromat are expected to be in place, making the camp fully functional.

The only facility of its kind in the world, Lions Camp Dorset is taking shape under the guidance of one man, project manager Sandy Ailles. A softspoken man with piercing eyes, a red mustache and seemingly boundless energy, Ailles spent four years of his life putting every spare moment into the project before the sod was turned. And although he downplays his own importance to the project, there is no doubt that without his efforts, Camp Dorset would not have become a reality in

Reason for board decision not released

CAS director asked to resign

The director of the Kawartha Haliburton Children's Aid Society, George Dove, has been asked to resign following a meeting of the society's board of directors.

Judith Kyle, president of the board, confirmed the decision following a recent board meeting, but declined to comment on the reasons for it, saying only that it was "an internal, personal matter."

Merideth Amm, chairman of the Improvement District of Bicroft and Haliburton County council's representative on the board also declined to comment on the reasons for the split.

"We're obliged to keep that confident," Amm said.

Spending and accounting practices of the CAS came under fire at a meeting of Haliburton County council in June, 1979 following a report from Amm a month earlier in which he outlined concerns that had surfaced at a meeting of the board.

Since that time, however, there had been no indication to county council of any rift between the board and Dove.

OPP seek public's aid in car theft

Minden OPP are asking for the public's help in tracking down a person who stole a car in the Horseshoe Lake area and drove it off the Bethel Church Road minutes later.

Police say they have no clue as to the identity of the thief, but believe he or she was injured, likely in the chest area, due to the severity

Youth escapes injury as car hits culvert, catches fire

A Newmarket youth escaped injury Saturday night when the car he was driving left Highway 121, struck a culvert and burst into flames. Douglas C. Thompson, 16, was westbound east of the north junction with Highway 35 when he failed to negotiate a curve to the left. The car's right wheels drove onto the right shoulder and it entered the ditch, colliding with the culvert.

The ensuing fire completely destroyed the 1979 vehicle. Damage was estimated at $4,500 when a car left the Duck Lake Road Friday night. Daniel J. Langlois, 24, of Etobicoke was northbound and swerved to avoid an animal. The left front wheel went off the left side of the roadway and struck an embankment. The impact caused the wheel to collapse and the vehicle continued down the hill and over some rocks. Langlois was not injured.

Police are searching for a person or persons who stole a car and drove it off the Bethel Church Road Sunday night.

The 1979 car was westbound when the driver lost control on a curve and drove off the right side of the road, striking a rock. The vehicle then rolled down a hill and came to rest on its right side.

Damage to the car was estimated at $4,000.

A single car accident on Little Kennis Lake Road resulted in an estimated $1000 damage Friday.

Police say a 1969 Ford bus driven by Philip J. Adams, 16 of Toronto was southbound when it hit the soft edge of the roadway, went into the west ditch and rolled over.

Damage was also estimated at $1000 in a single car accident on North Pigeon Lake Road Sunday afternoon.

Marion J. Bolton, 56, of Willowdale was northbound when she noticed that a tree had fallen over the southbound lane. She observed a southbound vehicle approaching and drove to the right. The right wheel sank into the soft shoulder and the vehicle went into the ditch, striking a rock.

The office staff at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School will be kept busy this week as students file in for registration. Classes resume next Tuesday.

Minden OPP busy last weekend

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report the following activity for the period of August 18-24. During this period the staff investigated nine reportable and one non-reportable motor vehicle collision and 121 general occurrences.

Eight breakins were reported, seven compassionate messages were delivered, two persons were charged with boating violations, two persons were charged with liquor violations and one person was charged with impaired driving.

Anson, Hindon, Minden council minutes

Anson, Hindon and Minden council, at its most recent meeting, considered the following matters of business:

E. Hodsoll approached council with respect to the subdivision agreement between himself and the township which stated that the lots on this plan were to be "water access only" and if Block A was sold to an individual the terms in the subdivision's agreement could not be met. Council advised that the lot would be sold for the appraised value.

A Mr. Workman attended council regarding the ownership of this lot. He advised that Lot 22 was needed to the township as 5% of a draft plan proposed to the north of an abutting plan 454. Before the draft plan was registered, the developer became frustrated by a third party and deposited the parcels on title as plan 34537. In view of this Workman contested the ownership of Lot 22 on Plan 454. Council agreed to defer the sale of Lot 22 and Block A, Plan 454 until the September 10th meeting.

An increase of 50 cents per hour was approved for A. Davis retroactive to June 1, 1980, having successfully completed the six-month probationary period.

The municipality wholeheartedly supported the efforts of the Provisional County of Haliburton to retain the railway in Haliburton County, noting that every township in the county stands to benefit from the effects of the railway.

V. Gentle attended council requesting permission to place a 12' x 55' mobile home on a rural lot.

of the damage to the vehicle. Anyone who can shed any light on the investigation is asked to contact the Ontario Provincial Police at the Minden detachment.

Council approved the placement of a mobile home on Lot 6, Concession 2, Township of Minden providing the size and setbacks etc. comply with Section 8 of By-law 14-67, as amended.

Council had no objections to D.G. Atkinson putting a water line under Horseshoe Lake Rd. No. 1 at Lot 6, Concession IV, Township of Minden providing the road right of way is returned to its original condition.

One tender was received from D. Hodsoll for Block A, Plan 542. Council agreed to list this lot for sale with a real estate company. One tender was received from C.J. Royce for Block B, Plan 550. Council accepted the tender of C.J. Royce for Block B, Plan 550 for the sum of $2,800.

G. MacDonald of the Horseshoe Lake Association was present regarding the installation of 30" culverts in the causeway leading to Shyler's Island. Council agreed to contact an engineering firm for information as well as advising M.T.C. and M.O.E. that the condition has worsened.

E. Prior attended council with respect to some residential property which she is purchasing and inquired whether or not the present by-laws precluded her from using up to 75% of the land for open gardening purposes. Council concurred with her proposal provided it was for her own use. Any commercial use must comply with Section 5 of By-law 14-67.

H. Shorter was present regarding the manhole in front of his residence on Newcastle St. The sewer and

...I'm not saying no to the proposal."

MacBrien said he signed the petition mainly because he felt that a big project could bankrupt some businesses and put additional hardships on the remaining businesses. Another point of concern which he voiced was the possibility of having all the development in one area of town and the other areas losing out.

This feeling was echoed by Eileen Shapiera, owner of Shoes and Leather.

"I can't see anything being done in front of our building. We don't have any sidewalks in front," she explained.

One of the most common concerns about the proposal and the money business people would be expected to contribute each year.

Shapiera said she didn't feel her business could absorb any extra bills especially since the municipality had raised the water rates drastically, the taxes were increasing steadily and sewer hook-ups were expensive.

"We're giving enough to the municipality," she said.

Also on the economic concern, Ted Madill, owner of Minden Furniture Centre, said he felt business taxes were high enough and they should be re-routed back into improvement of the business area instead of being included with all the other taxes collected by the municipality.

He claimed the economy in Minden was too unstable to expect it to sustain an improvement area successfully. "Basically for a prosperous town, under better economic conditions, I think it is a good thing," he said.

Continuing on the economy, Cox said he felt that other levels of government were condoning restraint measures and Minden should be following the tight-purse-string approach.

"There was a lot of money talked about, and I felt that this was not the time in Canada's economy right now to make these decisions," he said. Although, he added he might consider the establishment of a BIA in a year and a half or two years if the economy seemed to be improving.

However in all the talk of the economics of the BIA, many of the business people seemed to forget the Ministry of Housing officials said there was no minimum requirement of what must be spent in a town. If only a $1,000 project was chosen for a year, it would be divided evenly between the participating businesses.

"It's a self-help program and essentially those people feel they don't need any help, I guess," Brandon said.

Brandon said the defeat of the establishment of the BIA was a step backwards and unfair for the 36 merchants willing to go ahead.

"The people who signed the petition seem to think that they won a victory. I think they essentially won a defeat," he said.

Although Brandon said a few merchants who had been in favour of the BIA had mentioned they may get together in small groups, the main drive will probably just die down.

"I thought it was a worthwhile program for the community and I think Minden desperately needs something like that," he said.

Brandon said he was not terribly frustrated because of the time he had spent pushing the project as it was part of his council duties for the township.

"I didn't go after it because I was concerned about the front of my store. I went after it because I really thought it was the best thing for the community, but often times people don't do what's best for them," he said.

Brandon seemed to have little hope that the BIA would ever get off the ground in the future.

Horse judging in the ring will go on throughout the afternoon leading up to one of the most popular events of the fair, the heavy horse draw, which will begin at 4:30 p.m.

Other attractions scheduled for Saturday include the midway, a log house building demonstration, horseshoe pitching and the Bob Thompson challenge log rolling contest.

Also expected to be on hand is David Trumbull, Canada's oldest citizen at the remarkable age of 113.

Sunday is also expected to be a busy day at this year's fair with activity again beginning at 11 a.m., when the pony show will get underway. The exhibit hall will reopen at 2 p.m. and a toddler contest for youngsters two to three years of age is planned for noon.

A demolition derby has once again been included in this year's list of activities by popular demand, and it will begin at 2 p.m. in front of the grandstand.

Rounding out the day's activities will be the light horse drawing competition at 4 p.m.

All in all this year's fair promises to equal or better earlier efforts which have earned the Kinmount Fair widespread recognition as one of the best agricultural fairs in the province.

MUNICIPAL ENUMERATION

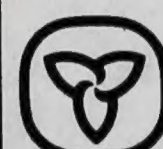

Starting September 2, 1980, an enumerator, carrying a proper identification card, will call at your residence for a few minutes to check basic information required in determining:

- your eligibility to vote in the municipal and school board elections to be held on November 10 this year;
- the allocation of education property taxes between the public and separate school systems;
- the distribution of provincial grants to local governments to help reduce local tax bills;
- the preparation of jurors' lists; and
- population information needed for other municipal programs.

The enumerator must record such information as the name, age, property status (e.g. owner or tenant), school support and residency of all members of the household.

When the enumerator visits, please check that the information on the Enumeration Notice is correct. If it is not, revise it and verify the changes.

If you are not home, a Notice will be left for you. If changes are necessary, please make them and mail the Enumeration Notice, as soon as possible, in the pre-addressed postage prepaid envelope accompanying the Notice. For any additional information, please contact the local assessment office.

Denna cottagers out of luck on sign

Cottagers on Denna Lake will probably not be getting a new sign for their road unless they wish to pay for it themselves. Lutterworth Township council decided last Thursday night.

The cottagers, who sent a petition to the council last month, had requested the road sign on the highway be changed from Denna Lake Road to a concession number as it was felt the lake sign was encouraging vandalism and thefts.

At the request of council, the Ministry of Transportation and Communications, responded saying the ministry would not change the sign as the present one is in excellent condition and it is therefore not necessary to change it.

Although reeve Ron Gambell suggested council purchase a new sign for the residents on Denna Lake, he was put down by council.

"Tell them the cost of the sign and tell them to pay for it. Don't start something, Ron," councillor Al Stott warned. He said council might be inundated with requests for name changes if it approved the Denna Lake cottagers' request.

Councillor Bill Prentice, who was unable to attend the previous meeting when the matter had been discussed, also disagreed with the name change.

"This is Haliburton County and I like to advertise our lakes," he said.

The matter has been left up in the air as council sent a copy of MTC's refusal to purchase a new sign to the cottagers.

cession VIII in favour of the Corporation of the Township of Monmouth and will ensure that the document is registered.

Council asked for the assistance of the Ministry of Natural Resources specifically asking for the indication as to the natural water course on parts 16 and 17, Reference Plan 27 and their recommendations to relieve the problem and further to arrange a meeting with ministry staff.

The invoice of Del Sharp Electric Limited dated June 11, 1980 in the amount of $52.50 and invoice #1178 of Madill Plumbing and Heating Systems in the amount of $114.46 were paid.

The quotation from C.H. Burton for repairing main section (approximately 1,000 feet) on fire hall roof in the amount of $2,800 was accepted.

Council accepted the proposal by Frank Cowan Company Limited as outlined in their Risk Management Report dated August 11, 1980 and that will pay the renewal premium as outlined therein.

The coverage re Workmen's Compensation Board for the Monmouth Volunteer Fire Department will be raised from $16,200 to $18,500 per person annually.

The municipality will pay their portion to the county in the amount of $122.70, to pay for legal and engineering cost re abandonment of the railway line.

Council will purchase the Nashua 1200 series photo copier as outlined in quotation of Kawartha Kopy Company dated July 24, 1980.

Committee to report on forest fire control

A three-man committee has been appointed to review the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources' fire control program and in particular, its efforts at fire fighting this year.

The review team has been asked to provide a concise assessment of Ontario's forest fire control policies, strategies and overall operations relating to the 1980 fire season from North American perspective. Topics to be examined include the adequacy of the provincial fire organization, planning and preparedness, allocation of resources, multi-fire occurrence strategy and the use of aircraft and water bombing.

Work on the review began August 11 in Sault Ste. Marie.

Country's size makes big impression on Belgian Rotary exchange student

by Sue Cooper

Jean-Paul Triaille has arrived in Canada. And more important than that, he has arrived in Haliburton.

Triaille, who landed at Toronto International Airport at midnight last Wednesday, is the foreign Rotary exchange student who will be spending a year in the area.

Triaille, the fifth Rotary student to visit Haliburton in as many years, comes from the south of Belgium near the border of France.

On Friday, he was relaxing at the home of Rotarian Doug Devolin after a long trip and a busy day on Thursday.

At 17, Triaille speaks English well, is fluent in French and learns Dutch in school.

Belgium is very similar to Canada as it also has two official languages, French and Flemish.

In his home land, Triaille attended a private Catholic school in Tournai, a city which he lives near. At home, Triaille's parents farm land that has been in their family for many generations. Their main crop is potatoes but they also have beef cattle.

In Belgium, it is considered a student's job to attend to his schooling

Although many members of his family have been farmers, Triaille says he has no interest in farming and plans to attend university when he returns to Belgium next year. He is unsure of the courses he will major in, as yet.

During his past six years in a senior school, (senior and elementary schools each have six grades), he majored in Latin and mathematics.

As a stark difference to the life of Canadian students, Triaille was expected to complete an average of two or three hours of homework each night.

In Belgium it is considered a student's job to attend to his schooling and he is not expected to do work at home instead of his homework.

Triaille said there was little physical education, history or geography taught during the school ek with the main emphasis being placed on the major courses of a student's choice. These choices included Latin and Greek, Latin and mathematics, Latin and science, mathematics and language and science and language but Triaille said the school was now allowing the students to make more choices about their education, instead of the strict course outlines of the past.

In comparison to Belgium, Triaille will be noticing many differences in Canada over the next year.

On his first night of arrival he wondered at the distance they travelled to reach Haliburton.

He is also amazed by the size of Canada which he says could contain 376 Belgians.

Although Triaille did read some books on Canada before he left Belgium, he has a whole new world to see that he hasn't discovered yet.

A sad day for Minden

All those who held out even faint hope that the village of Minden could look forward to a brighter future in the next few years have reason to be sadly disappointed in the actions of some members of the business community. By signing a confusing petition against the formation of a business improvement area along the village's main street, 19 people may well have dashed the enthusiasm of more than 30 other merchants and business people.

Though ambiguously worded, the petition states that those who signed it "conditionally object to the BIA in principle". Reasons for the objection appear to be based on a striking ignorance of what a BIA would and would not do for the community.

In essence, a BIA program would be a vehicle to help market the village of Minden by carrying out improvements to sidewalks, streetlights and other amenities in the business core. And no one with an objective view and even limited experience of other communities in Ontario could doubt that Minden would benefit from cosmetic changes. Even the most limited BIA program, carried out at very small cost, could have helped to make Minden a more pleasant place to be, and created an atmosphere in which people would have been more inclined to linger. Now, it seems likely that with the exception of basic improvements to the sidewalks which the municipality is committed to carry out, the village's main street will remain unimproved. And that is unfortunate for all those in the community who were interested in seeing it move ahead and become a little more aggressive in its efforts to attract consumer dollars.

If the somewhat muddled words of the petition are to be trusted, many people in the business community appeared to feel that the BIA was supposed to provide immediate and direct benefits. If they were called on to contribute $50 to the BIA they wanted to see $50 worth of work done on the sidewalk or streetlight in front of their business. But that is not what a BIA is designed to do and such a pragmatic view of its purpose could only have led to conflicts.

In practice, a BIA serves two vital and inseparable purposes. Firstly, and perhaps most importantly, it is intended to help the business community attract people to town. By working toward improvements beyond those the municipality can reasonably provide, a BIA helps a community compete more effectively for whatever portion of his income a consumer has to spend on goods and services. The more people the community can attract, and the longer they can be induced to stay, the more money they are likely to spend. And increased spending strengthens the entire business community, no matter what sort of products or services an individual provides. The BIA appeared to be especially important to Minden in light of recent development along the Highway 35 village by-pass. The more services that locate on the highway, the less reason there will be for people to leave the by-pass and drive into the village core. A BIA, effectively carried out, could have helped to stem that trend.

It is important to recognize too, that the BIA need not have been a costly venture. The petitioners' concern about the amount of money that may have been borrowed to undertake improvements indicates they may not have understood that the BIA could have cost almost nothing. Its establishment would have opened the door for low interest loans from the province, but the loans were not an inevitable consequence of the program. Indeed, had the BIA board been formed, everyone in the business community would have had an opportunity to say how much money should be spent, and on what improvements.

A second benefit of the BIA, and one which would have paid subtle but important dividends, was that it would have brought the business community together for a common cause. The BIA might have helped local merchants understand the value of a united effort in marketing the services and attractions the village had to offer. At the very least, the BIA would have opened the door for dialogue among the business community that would in the end have made it stronger.

Unfortunately, whether because of ignorance, apathy, or just plain irritability a minority of business people in the community have ended a good idea before it had a fighting chance for success.

For those who signed the petition, the death of the BIA program may look like a victory. But for those with an abiding interest in the community who were perceptive enough to realize the good a BIA program might have done, its downfall is a sad thing indeed.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

The directors of Soyers Lake Ratepayers Association Incorporated wish to publicly thank the Editor of the Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder for the comprehensive and objective reporting of our representations to Minden council on July 23 and the actions of council on August 13, and express a special note of appreciation for the fine editorial titled 'An Unfortunate Incident' which appeared in the August 20 edition of your newspaper.

It was truly gratifying to see our cause receive the editorial support of the principal 'voice of the highlands'. Through the medium of your paper our membership has been kept informed of the activities of their executive who are determined to see that the association concerns are properly heard and properly dealt with.

The actions of some members of council on August 13 were disappointing to say the least, however we are not going to cry shame, lay blame or become involved in name-calling. We truly regret that our involvement regarding the current proposed development on Soyers Lake has come about at this late stage in the planning approval process. In an attempt to correct this situation we have requested the Minister of Housing to include in the current revisions to the Planning Act, a statement to the effect that all duly incorporated ratepayers associations, registered with a municipality, be advised of all proposed plans of subdivision within their area of concern, prior to matters being dealt with by municipal councils or planning boards. This procedure would avoid the apparent dilemma confronting some members of Minden council concerning the proposed plan of subdivision submitted by Couchiching Real Estate for development of the Hislop property on our lake.

Had our association been given the opportunity to examine the proposed plan and make representations to council before the plan was approved we are certain that no problem would exist today because the proposed 100 foot lots would not have been approved. Council heard our representations on July 23, 1980 and after careful consideration of the arguments and concerns presented passed a resolution recommending that the minimum lot size be increased to 150 feet.

The fact that council had previously approved the Couchiching plan without having heard from the present residents of the area should not and cannot prevent council from taking the proper action now. Our disappointment at the actions of council on August 13 (and that is the mildest understatement we can make) borders on total disbelief. Surely it is inconceivable that our council would even consider withdrawing support for the concerns and position of the existing 120 property owners (some of whom have been on the lake for over 50 years), who have invested millions of dollars and tons of sweat and tears in favour of the demands of a development company whose sole objective is to make money.

We are not opposed to development. We are not opposed to development companies making a profit. We fully support the free enterprise system which has helped develop not only this county but the whole country; however we are opposed unalterably and irrevocably to excessive development in any one location which will depreciate existing properties, damage the environment and destroy the very attributes which originally attracted us to become residents on Soyers Lake.

Notwithstanding what has occurred, we still have confidence in our elected representatives that they will do what is right and just. We still believe that council will act to support our concerns and allow us to declare before the O.M.B. that Minden council supports our association.

Soyers Lake Ratepayers Association Inc.,
W.L. McCriston,
President

To the Editor:

Without discrediting the wisdom of the engineering department, I fail to agree with the design of the entry of Highway 519 to 121. I'm convinced that a Y intersection with an island separating two lanes each, to 121 south and north, to the village, would better serve the traffic flow.

As to a renewed rail service, the buffs should have acquired the equipment formerly at the Portage and now installed in Pinafore Park, St. Thomas. Only three steam locomotives remain and the cost of restoration of them and the tracks would be prohibitive. In any event relinquishing tracks along Head Lake would have facilitated reconstruction of the highway and left it open for a park along the entire section of the lake.

Yours truly,
G. C. Springer,
Haliburton, Ontario

To the Editor:

In his column 'Stanhope Notes' of July 16, 1980, Alex Stevenson comments on a rumoured remark to the Boshkung Lake Cottagers Association meeting on June 28, 1980 to the effect that the Stanhope Volunteer Fire Brigade might respond to a fire call with as few as three men.

I wish to categorically deny that Councillor Elvin Johnston made such a statement at our meeting. A member asked the direct question "Do we really have a fire brigade in Stanhope Township?". As chairman I asked Councillor Johnston to reply. The minutes of the meeting record his response: he stated that Stanhope did have an adequate fire brigade and that at least three of its members had taken their training along with him on the original brigade.

We appreciate Reeve Harrison's concern with this rumour and accept his assurance that at least six men are always available.

Yours truly,
Andrew A. Murdison,
President

It's just about time that some of these people who move into the Highlands of Haliburton for two or three months in the summer, set up a business and then close it up or move on at the end of August were charged a heavy business licence. What protection does the business operator have that stays open the year round to give the local people service have. The answer, none at the present time. These other people are coming in for a short time to take home the gravy and they couldn't care less about the future of you and I. There would be no towns or villages such as Minden, Haliburton, Wilberforce, West Guilford or what have you if the business community were operated by these gravy train seekers. In my opinion every business that opens here in this county should be forced to stay open twelve months of the year. In other words, let's either get into business or stay out of it.

A friend of mine from Haliburton was complaining to me the other day about a matter that arose at the snowmobiling on water event held on Head Lake on Sunday August 17. It appears that he was watching the activities from the Amphitheatre at the new park. He said the he was disgusted to see so many dogs, some on leashes and others on the loose roaming the park grounds taking relief wherever they felt like it. Others have been complaining about this same matter and they claim that action will have to be taken as far as dogs are concerned before the new park is officially opened.

In the past few weeks we here at the newspaper have been approached by three different organizations who claimed to be short of funds to go out and get sponsor ads from local businessmen so that they could have a free advertisement. It is our opinion that if these organizations can't afford to put in the advertisement to promote their events then it's just about time that they folded up and called it a day. The question remains just how cheap can some people get? As far as we are concerned here we would love to be in the position to give away our advertisements but anyone who is in business knows that you must be able to show a profit to pay your bills or bankruptcy will be the end result. We have a good product in the Haliburton County Echo and one that is here for you to use in an effort to sell your goods, but like everything else you must understand that we have to charge for our services.

Jim Fink who is 38 years old and a guest at Haliburton Lodge saw a lifetime goal realized recently when he swam the distance of 8 miles (12 km.). From a starting point at Drag Lake Lodge he took off at 9:00 a.m. and finished at Haliburton Lodge at 11:20 a.m. Sedrick Hurd who coached him for 33 years swam the last length with him. Mr. Fink's 16 year old son tried to keep pace with his father but found that he couldn't keep up. Before the big swim Fink and his coach trained at an olympic pool for a total of 50 lengths a day. We offer our congratulations on this sporting feat.

What more can you say about Paul Prentice who hails from Minden. Paul on his winning run won the snowmobiling on water races by crossing Head Lake at Haliburton recently from shore to shore. Prentice of Prentice Roads Ltd. in Minden not only won the $300 first prize but put on a first class exhibition of just what he can do with a snowmobile on the water. He made believers out of doubters as he skimmed the waters on Head Lake leaving the Rotary Beach going the full length of the lake then going up on land in front of the High School, then turning around and heading back to the Rotary Beach. What a show and what a thrill for the hundreds who lined up around the lake to see this dazzling display. When it was all over some of the spectators were left with their mouths wide open as if they couldn't believe what they saw happening out there on the water. In my opinion, Paul has to be one of the best snowmobilers on water in Canada.

Rob Salem writing in the Toronto Star one day last week was pointing out the fact that audiences attending certain theatres in Toronto were in for a real treat when they could enjoy an NFB short heavy horse pull before the regular feature movie. It's a light-hearted documentary about heavy horse pull, the name of a farmers competition in which a pair of horses are hitched up to "stone boats" weighing up to 10,000 lbs. The film is a warm and folksy look at the men who enter the competitions at county fairs in Lindsay and Kilmount. The massive and powerful farm horses are an impressive sight, the Bancroft countryside is serenely beautiful, the country blue music by Prairie Oyster provides an ideal background, but the stars of heavy horse pull are the farmers themselves. The film centres on one in particular, Mac McGillivray, a proud and dedicated farmer and horse trainer whose home-grown country witticisms have a natural appeal.

Secondary school students are reminded that registration is now taking place at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. It started on Monday, August 25 and will conclude this Friday, August 29. The hours of registration are from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Don't forget that this Saturday and Sunday is the annual Kilmount Fair. If you have never attended before, this should be the year. You haven't seen a fair until you have seen the Kilmount Fair. They have a wonderful two-day program lined up so make plans now to attend.

We have just been informed that a demonstration of the new game of Ringette with instructors from the Haliburton Hockey Haven will take place at the arena in Haliburton this Thursday evening starting at 9:30 p.m. If you miss this one you will have another chance to catch it when the girls swing into action this coming Saturday morning and they will be playing from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the afternoon. Admission to both session is free.

Pic of the Past

This picture shows a break in the action during the fire that gutted the basement of the Bank of Montreal building next to the Dominion Department Store at Haliburton in 1955. It was during this fire that Tom Chambers who at that time was the local fire chief lost his life. The group above are shown standing in front of Carl Hussey's Hardware store across the street, dispensing coffee and sandwiches to the men of the Haliburton Fire Department. From the left, Joe Iles who was driving the fire truck on this particular occasion, Miss Minott, Dorothy Austin, Captain Phillips of the Salvation Army and Dick Clarke.

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

Two Years Maybe Too Late

When 19 Minden businessmen "killed" the Business Improvement Area program planned for the town last week, it is to be hoped that they had some alternative in mind. By law, it will now be two years before such a program may be considered again and the individuals who worked so hard towards the project that has now been rejected are not likely to attempt it again themselves.

The Chamber, through a Ministry of Housing employment program carried out two consumer surveys, one last summer, and one the summer before. Both of these surveys pointed out very strongly one particular point - that cottagers and visitors will gladly shop locally if we make it convenient and pleasant for them to do so. Prices were of minor concern as long as they were competitive. With this in mind it was certainly a very wise decision, by those that initiated it, to attempt to create a Business Improvement Area for Minden. The Chamber this summer delegated two students to do the task of collecting data on what priorities were in the minds of the effected business operators so that the board of management could effectively plan the projects to be undertaken. Out of 44 businesses in the designated area only 24 actually filled out the survey. While some very pointedly refused to participate, for many it was just a question of apathy and lack of interest.

A lot of effort, including three summers of doing surveys, have now gone for naught. It is only slightly encouraging to hear that some isolated improvements may take place among neighbouring businesses, because of course this cannot have the same impact as the whole town working together.

John Pentney of Minden Home Hardware said, "I would like to see a B.I.A. in Minden simply as a way of saying thank you to all the people that shop here regularly. They deserve more than we are offering them now." There are others in Minden that have excellent attitudes such as John's and it is most unfortunate that their effect has been stifled by this major setback.

Junior Hockey Program

Haliburton's new entry into Junior C hockey this year is preparing to publish 5,000 programs which will be distributed at all the Huskie home games free of charge. Bob Nichols and Wayne Woods are now soliciting advertising for the program and would appreciate hearing from anyone interested in participating.

Bill Smiley

Summer begins, and the school teacher, along with his students is reasonably ecstatic. Two whole months free to loaf, swim, golf, fish, play tennis, scuba dive, or whatever turns you on.

And suddenly, before you've had a chance to hit a ball or catch a bass, it's the middle of August. You haven't been anywhere special, you haven't done anything special, it's rained four days out of seven or been so blasted hot all you could do was lie around and gasp, and there you are, a couple of weeks away from facing about 160 kids, fit as fiddles and ready to make you skip academic rope.

Lucky is the teacher who has no friends or relatives. He or she can go to Europe, take a course in anything from primitive sculpture to basic Russian, or just lie around in the backyard watching the bumble bees trying to have sex with the hummingbirds. But most of us have relatives, and some of us even have two or three friends, and therein lies the sudden disappearance of the summer holidays.

A couple of days here, a little jaunt to see some relatives there, and suddenly it's last summer.

My wife is at the moment packing bags for the eighth time in five weeks, and she swears that after this brief expedition up north to the cottage of friends, she's going to pile the suitcases in the backyard, sprinkle a can of gas over them, and have the first big barbecue we've had time for since the end of June.

I spent one week loafing. But I have such a gift for loafing that it seemed like only three days.

Then it was a punishing trip up north to pick up the grandboys. Their mother insisted that I not spoil them, or try to entertain them. I did both and we all loved it, but it took its toll. On me.

Next thing I know, my brother wants a reunion, because he's leaving the country.

Thomas Wolfe wrote a great novel: "You Can't Go Home Again." Well, you can, but I wouldn't advise it. If you haven't been back to your old home town for many years, don't go.

Progress puts its ugly finger on the most cherished memories of childhood, and you'll find that the tree-laned, sleepy little town in which you grew up not only makes you sad, but a little angry, with all its new motels, sleazy eating places, and fine old homes turned into apartments or nursing homes.

I went looking for a corner where I had kissed a girl every night for two years. As I slowed down, trying to identify it with the big maple gone, replaced by a pizza joint, a dry-cleaners, and fish-and-chips boutique, a kid came up from behind, slammed me in the rear, and ran off in his souped-up Zilch, hurling obscenities. I was wishing I had a .44 and I'd've put two slugs through his gas tank.

I drove down the main street, and it could have been Main Street, Anywhere. Like North Dakota. That was the street where I hustled deliveries for my dad, when he had a shoe store, and he'd give me a dime, and I'd go to the matinee, watch Tarzan beat the crocodiles (almost) across the river, and go back Saturday afternoon, wondering if he'd made it. He always did, thank goodness.

My brother and I played golf, badly, at the local course. I felt completely out of my element, with all those old, white-haired, wizened people until I got to the bridge, spanning the river. The bridge was new, but at least I remembered sitting on it, watching the ladies pound their golf balls into the river. We dived for them, and sold them back for a dime.

If I'd had time, I'd have driven around the three-mile circuit Jack Pope and I worked every Saturday morning, looking for empty beer bottles in the ditches. We made a fair buck in those days, probably splitting thirty-five cents when we turned in our goods to M.K., an elderly Jewish Gentleman, much more scrupulous of his business dealings with us kids than most trust company executives would be.

I saw my sister, who, as was always her wont, tried to stuff more food into me than a healthy alligator could handle.

I drove out to an incredibly romantic place my Uncle John had bought as a farm. He couldn't make a nickel from it, but it had a huge stone house with a butler's pantry, and about 14 out-buildings: stables, sheds, barns, the lot. After explaining my safari to a surly chap from eastern Europe, he said, "Sorrigh, Sorrigh." So much for memories.

It wasn't all gone, of course, to be fair. Some of the old houses and hotels are still there, turned into artsy-crafties or modern eating places.

The old, smelly river-cum-canal is still there, weed-infested, tranquil, full of suckers and pike, a relic of the war of 1812-16.

But don't go home again. Crowning blow was when my wallet was either lost or lifted, and I've been cancelling credit cards, getting new licenses, and weeping over my cash and my OHIP number ever since.

Stay home and be happy with your own rotten place and all its problems.

Let's run around together.

NDP calls for enquiry into milk price hike to consumers

Editor's note: The following is a statement by Donald C. MacDonald, MPP for York South, NDP Food and Agricultural Critic.

Once again, returns to farmers for increased costs of production of fluid milk have become the excuse for pyramiding increases throughout the whole system to the consumer. How much of a rip-off of the consumer this constitutes no one knows. And neither Agriculture and Food Minister Lorne Henderson nor Consumer Minister Frank Drea have indicated any intention of finding out.

The facts are these. The Ontario Milk Marketing Board increased fluid milk prices by 2.79 cents a litre on August 18. This action is fully open to public scrutiny because the increase was made in accordance to a formula reflecting the costs of production and other economic factors. In addition, however, the increase is subject to an appeal to the Ontario Milk Commission.

Two points are very worthy of note. First, if the formula has been strictly adhered to, the price increase to the farmers would have been 4.5 cents a litre instead of 2.79. But because of conditions in the market place, the board restricted its increase to the lower figure.

Second, the dairies first indicated that they were going to appeal the board's increase, arguing that even the 2.79 cents was too high in view of the current conditions in the market place. They have not decided not to proceed with their appeal, but despite those conditions in the market place which were going to be the basis of their appeal, both the dairies and the retailers are now piggy-backing their increases onto the 2.79 cents granted to the farmers.

The net result is that the price to the consumer is going to be in the range of six cents -- more than double what the farmer got.

It is relevant to note that when the farmers last got an increase, in November 1979, that too was doubled for the consumer through additional increases by the dairies and the retailers. In addition, last January, the dairies added a further increase when the farmers got none.

This unsatisfactory situation, in which milk prices are controlled to the farm gate while being left totally uncontrolled, and subject to no public scrutiny, through the processor and retailer, has been the subject of protest for years. But the Davis government has consistently refused to do anything about it.

It is certain that the consumer is being ripped off. The only question is: to what extent? Because this situation is bedevilled by the bizarre procedures of discounts and allowance on which a Royal Commission completed hearings nearly a year ago, and we still await its report.

It is now publicly documented that supermarkets extract from the dairies discounts of up to 30 percent on milk, representing lower costs which, at best, are only partially passed on to the consumer. Most of these lower costs end up in the supermarket's cash flow and profits. But since the dairies are compelled by the economic power of the supermarkets to grant these high discounts, obviously they have to compensate for them by increasing their prices to all other retailers. The consumer ends up by paying these higher prices while not benefitting (certainly not fully) from the discount favoritism given to the supermarkets.

Hopefully, after its long gestation period, the Royal Commission on Discounts and Allowances in the Food Industry, will make some recommendations to correct this situation. And then we'll find out whether the government is, at long last, willing to correct some of these legal, but unethical, practices in the marketing of food products.

column failed to carry information about your annual Country Good Times in this particular paper. On both occasions the information was provided when the column was prepared and it did appear in the other paper that carries this column. The newspaper, however, does reserve the right to cut portions of the column as it sees fit due to space limitations. Unfortunately, for two years this has happened in respect to coverage for the Country Good Times.

This is particularly upsetting when it is recognized that organizers of special events in your area have been most diligent in providing the Chamber with information well in advance of your activities. We do wish to assure you, however, that the mention in the column of events is only a small portion of the efforts that is made by the Chamber to generate publicity for coming events of all kinds. Over 30 news releases on both the Country Good Times and your upcoming Rockhound Fair have been sent out to media sources throughout the province and hopefully this assistance will more than make up for the portions of the column that were missed here.

To the Editor:

Pierre Trudeau appears to have forgotten what the duties of a Prime Minister are, that of running the country.

It would appear that his only preoccupation is to have the B.N.A. Act changed as quickly as possible. Why?

If he is "given the power to manage the economy" that gives him full control of all of us, including the provinces.

Trudeau's recent performance (which is even worse than before) certainly does not qualify him to further mess around with our country.

It's time that "tremendous ego" faced reality and let another Liberal - "any Liberal" try to put the pieces together, and leave the B.N.A. Act alone until we've done a great deal of rebuilding. Right Canadians?

Sincerely,
Claudia Say,

Ringette brings girls together in their own sport

by Sue Cooper

Lookout hockey, here comes ringette. That's what the T-shirts say and that's what more and more girls are saying at community arenas every year.

And this year, for the first time, ringette has come to Haliburton, not in the form of a community sport but as a camp activity under the auspices of the Haliburton Hockey Haven.

For the last two weeks of August the traditionally boys' camp has been turned upside down as 170 girls filled the cabins, dining room and recreational areas which have always been the boys' domain. For these weeks, the hockey haven has changed its name to Quanahar, the provincial ringette camp, meaning a pleasant place.

During this time the staff at the hockey haven has noticed a tremendous change in atmosphere. Paul Abra, a director at the camp said last Wednesday.

In the beginning there was a mad rush to get curtains on the windows where no curtains had hung before, as there are male staff members at the camp. When it was thought all the curtains were in place Abra said it was surprising to find out the only windows they had missed covering were in the washrooms.

Before the girls came to the hockey haven, Abra made a trip to a local all-girls camp to see what problems the staff might encounter changing an entirely boys camp to a girls camp.

"The camp has really noticed the closeness of the girls because of the sport," Abra explained.

Ringette gives the girls a feeling of having their own sport. While they can play girls' hockey or girls' baseball, the emphasis is always on 'girls'.

With the introduction of ringette into major centres and as it now filters through to the smaller towns, girls who formerly had nothing else to do at arenas but watch their brothers play hockey will not have a winter activity of their own that boys can't play.

Ringette is a fast moving sport similar to hockey in some respects but different enough to carry its own patent and trademark. The sport was invented around 1964 in North Bay, Ontario and has grown to be an international activity.

The most important aspect of the game which is being taught in Haliburton village's arena this summer, is safety, according to Julien Cormier, one of the head instructors from the Ontario Ringette Association. The association has operated ringette camps in different areas but has found the Haliburton camp to be far superior to other facilities.

One of the most obvious and probably the most surprising aspects of the game is the equipment, or rather the lack of equipment which the girls wear. They are covered only in a regular track suit, helmet and mask, gloves, knee pads and elbow pads.

Ringette has remained an enjoyable and safe game because it has avoided the trend toward physical violence that has caused hockey to become less of a sport than it was a few years ago. No body contact is allowed in ringette in any way, shape or form, Cormier says.

The girls play basically under the same rules as hockey, except that only the players' positions are strictly outlined.

The two defencemen, or girls rather, can only travel as far as the second blue line from their goal and aren't allowed to touch the ring in the opposing team's defensive zone. The defense players always use a blue coloured stick.

The two red-stick-carrying forwards are not allowed to enter their own defensive end and the centre, who always uses a white stick can travel anywhere on the ice she wishes.

Another interesting aspect of the game is the way the games are started and race-offs are handled. The familiar hockey face-offs are not at all like ringette free passes. One team is given the advantage at the beginning of the game and has the right to shoot the ring without interference from the other team. In the case of a penalty face-off or free pass the offending team loses the right to the ring and the team with the ring can shoot anywhere from within half of the face-off circle.

According to Cormier this makes the game a little more fair as the victimized team always is assured control of the ring.

Although the sport demands that players be proficient in many skills, skating is one of the major talents a successful ringette player should have. To help the girls learn proper techniques, there are 21 female and two male instructors. The females are probably ranked with the top ringette players across Canada.

After being involved with ringette camps for four years, Cormier has developed some new teaching methods and exercises for the goalies.

The girl who is decked out similar to a hockey goalie is taught to skip a rope on the ice wearing her skates. After a few attempts of making a couple of skips and then almost doubling over into the ice, the female instructor gives the goalie some helpful hints and the student quickly masters about four skips in a row.

Cormier also encourages the goalies to learn to throw a frisbee with their gloves on, as it is about the same shape as the ring and they need the training in grabbing that ring and firing it out of the area around the net.

These teaching methods improve the goalie's agility and help her prepare for those fast moves that are needed in the goal area.

The goalie is the only member of the team who uses a regulation hockey stick; all the other girls use a stick which has the blade cut off. Regulations state the player's stick can be no longer than armpit level and has to be at least 12 millimetres in width.

When playing the game in regular season, Cormier said the girls travel to tournaments

Last place LaRue team moving fast

by Sue Cooper

Everything was certainly looking up earlier this week for the LaRue team who went into the finals of the men's recreational softball league in last place. First, they defeated the second-placed lumbermen in a sudden death semi-final match and then downed the legionaires in their first match of the best out of three championship match.

The LaRue team, which started out as a strong contender early in the season, had weakened later winding up in fourth position just qualifying for the finals.

In the sudden death match against the lumbermen last week, the LaRue team kept control of the lead throughout the game.

Scott LaRue brought in the first run for the victors early in the first inning on a hit from Bob Johnston. The motormen followed that play by keeping the lumbermen away from home plate in the bottom of the first.

The lumbermen's pitcher, Craig Stamp made a good showing in the top of the second as he struck out three of the motormen after only one of the team managed to get to base.

The motormen's pitcher Sid Cooper must have been watching closely as he stepped up to the mound in the bottom of the inning and returned the same treatment to the lumbermen.

In the third, the motormen bolstered their lead as LaRue, Johnston and Greg Bishop all came home to make the score 4-0.

A little of the old colour started to show through for the lumbermen in the bottom of the third as Gary Brohman and Dwight Sisson crossed the plate with Stamp still on base. However, the motormen tightened up and put the next two batters out.

Both teams were playing good ball in the fourth inning with no runs being scored. The motormen couldn't manage a run in the fifth inning either as Stamp struck out three more players. In the bottom of the inning, Dwight Sisson narrowed the gap to one run as he hit a ball that was good for a trip around the bases.

The motormen managed another run from LaRue before the strong pitching from the lumbermen wiped out their chances of any more runs for the remainder of the game.

The lumbermen tried to make some nice hits in the final two innings but just couldn't get any runners on base.

The winning pitcher was Sid Cooper with Craig Stamp pitching a strong game for the lumbermen.

In another sudden death game the same night, the third place legionaires defeated the leading Curry squad, 8-5.

The legionaires had a strong start in the first inning with Andy Salvatori and Kevin Sisson coming home.

The motormen were kept anything like the relatively short time it has taken to get it underway.

On a recent Saturday, Ailles took time away from overseeing the construction of the clinic building to talk about the beginning of the project, and its importance to the people it will serve.

A happy incident brought Ailles, a member of the Dorset Lions Club, together with representatives of the Hamilton East Lions, who are major contributors to the building effort. It was at an international convention in California, Ailles recalls, that the idea of the camp began to grow. The Hamilton East Lions had purchased an old school bus and equipped it with two dialysis machines in a small scale effort to help home dialysis patients become more mobile. Dorset Lions had obtained a lease from the Ministry of Natural Resources for more than 500 acres of land fronting Deer Lake just east of Dorset. Plans were to develop into a park over a long period. It didn't take Ailles long to realize that the land would be perfect for a dialysis camp, and by the time the convention in California ended, the idea had taken root.

Hamilton East Lions soon committed funds to get the project started and donations began to come in from Kinsmen clubs, Lions clubs, Kidney foundations, and the St. Joseph's Hospital Kidney Foundation in Hamilton. Wintario funding has also been obtained, although Ailles admits that the clubs have been disappointed in the level of support from that agency. Burlington Central Lions have pledged $65,000 for the camp medical centre, and the Bracebridge Lions, Chincagoussy Lions, Brampton Lions and St. Davids Lions have all donated cottages. Labour and material have also come in from a number of sources.

"We're getting very good support from the local people," Ailles says. Off duty Hydro employees volunteered their time to bring power into the camp. Local members of the Ontario Electrical League have wired the cottages free. If a skilled labourer is needed to complete a certain job, Ailles or other club members go out and find the person and ask if he or she will donate their time. Refusals are rare.

Some $350,000 in time and materials has already gone into the camp, and before the project is completed, up to $1 million will have been invested. But the costs are insignificant when measured against the camp's value to the people who will use it.

Little more than 10 years ago, Ailles says, the prognosis for people whose kidneys failed was bleak. But the invention of a practical dialysis machine that could be produced in relatively large numbers at relatively low cost brought hope for a longer life. Though it had unavoidable unpleasant aspects, dialysis meant that people who would otherwise have died could continue to live tolerable lives. Some had to go to hospital three times a week to undergo the blood cleansing process, but others were able to learn to dialyse at home, inserting the needles, monitoring flow rates and adding anti coagulant precisely. They were free to remain with their families and out of hospital. But the social cost of kidney failure remains high. Many dialysis patients are unable to work, Ailles says, and most must live in large urban centres to be close to the specialized hospital facilities they might need. For families of dialysis patients, life can be difficult. Besides the anxiety and uncertainty the illness brings, families have had no chance to enjoy the kind of break from routine that others look forward to as a matter of course.

The existence of Camp Dorset, however, may bring new hope to many dialysis patients. It can give both the patient and their families something to look forward to. In fact, says Ailles, the camp may be an incentive that will help give kidney patients the determination to master home dialysis.

So far, the camp has been operating on a limited scale with two machines contained in the Hamilton Lions bus, and news about its existence has spread largely by word of mouth.

At the moment, bookings are limited to one-week periods, but by the time the project is completed, space is expected to be available for two week stays. Camp medical director Dr. Art Shimizu of St. Joseph's Hospital in Hamilton, a pioneer in home dialysis, must approve all applications for bookings to the camp in consultation with a patient's doctor. The booking process begins in January, and so far, space for the eight-week summer season has filled quickly. All of the camp's cottages are being winterized however, and in the near future, winter bookings are expected to begin, giving the camp "real status", Ailles says.

By the time the clinic facility is completed, up to eight dialysis machines, each costing upwards of $10,000, are expected to be available at the camp, and some 20 patients will be served.

In the immediate future, only home dialysis patients can attend the camp, because no medical personnel are on hand. Patients are, however, linked to their doctors by telephone in the event that complications develop when dialysis is underway. But the completion of the clinic is expected to open the door for some hospital dialysis patients to visit the camp, if volunteer medical staff can be found to man the clinic on a rotating basis throughout the summer.

Although Ailles admits that he knew nothing about kidney diseases and dialysis before he began to work on the camp, he has learned enough about it that he can now speak passionately about the camp and the problems of the people it serves. And he has developed an abiding respect, even admiration for the people who can face up to the pain and discomfort of dialysis and go on with their daily lives.

"I'm often asked to rate the dilemma with other things," Ailles says. "All I can say is that it's pretty drastic when you're living artificially."

For many of those patients, the only hope of real freedom lies in a successful kidney transplant. But there is a shortage of kidneys, and transplants are not always successful. In the meantime however, thanks to the efforts of Sandy Ailles and hundreds of other community-minded citizens who have contributed in one way or another to the building of Camp Dorset, depending on a machine for life does not have to mean a life without vacations.

And for Ailles, knowing that families of dialysis patients will have a chance to enjoy the scenery of Haliburton County, and that the patients will have something to look forward to, is reward enough for undertaking a project that has consumed more than five years of his life.

Carnarvon ladies ousted in semi-final

by Helen Burk

In Series A the Stanhope ladies, first in the league, came up against the third place West Guilford team. In the first game played in Minden on Monday night both teams played strong defensive games and West Guilford finally came out on top 4-1. They were led by Wendy Harper and Gail Teasdale while Darlene Barnhart and Cathy Darby had a good night at the plate for Stanhope. Winning pitcher was Joan MacKay while Marg Darby took the loss.

In the second game played in Haliburton on Wednesday night the West Guilford team jumped out in front 8-0 at the end of the second inning and everyone thought it was going to be a real thumping to Stanhope but they kept fighting back only to be beaten 13-11 and were eliminated from going into the finals. All the West Guilford team had a good night at the plate while Stanhope were led by Marg Darby and Darlene Barnhart. Wendy Harper was the winning pitcher while Marg Darby took the loss.

West Guilford is now waiting to meet the winner between Haliburton and the Minden Srs.

In Series B the Haliburton Victoria Sports Ladies took on the Minden Srs. last Monday night. The Haliburton team had a 15-10 lead going into the top of the seventh inning but the Srs. came up with 10 runs in the top of the seventh then the Srs. held on to win 20-17. The Srs. were led by Joan Paul, Andrea Burk and Marg Fielding, while Nancy Maughan and Marla MacNaull had a good night at the plate for Haliburton. Andrea Burk was the winning pitcher while Nancy Maughan took the loss.

In the second game played in Minden Thursday night the Haliburton team was really up for the game and jumped ahead early and played strong defense to win the game 12-4. Kim Roberts and Nancy Maughan helped lead the Haliburton team to even up the series. Marg Fielding hit a home run in a losing cause. Nancy Maughan was the winning pitcher while Andrea Burk took the loss.

In the third and final game played this Monday night in Haliburton both teams played heads up ball in the first three innings then the Minden Srs. came up with four runs and went on to beat 9-2. Joan

COUNTY ECHO FAMILY

Extendicare News by Dr. W. O. Anderson

We have lots of pilea (artillery plant) rooting that Mr. Heywood gave us. It gets its name because, as a mature plant, if you flick it slightly, out shoots a cloud of pollen. There is one lone mauve colored balsam, but a number of geraniums doing much better than last year, lots of pansies needing to be picked often to keep the blooming and lots of nasturtiums.

The largest muskmelon has a diameter of three inches and several the next size of 2 1/2 inches, so our chances of getting fruit now look pretty good. Cool nights have stunted the peppers and the parsley. There is enough of the latter to give us plenty of treats.

Monday afternoon we were bussed to the new location and facilities of the Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum by licensed driver Blanche Waller, supervised by Ivy Shaw. The new main building, modern in every respect and quaintly situated in a huge maple bush on a wide grassy lawn kept nicely groomed by the caretaker curator, George Hardy, is only too glad to converse about their plans ahead. The exhibits are very interesting and in a reasonable quantity with still plenty of space left as more will be added. The period covered mostly is the end of the nineteenth century giving viewers an idea of the life of the time. George has plans for maple activity in the spring, how much will depend on the public response. Even the grooming of the bush is desirable and may even provide some luckless family with heat in the winter and for cooking. This museum is bound to be a great stimulus to tourism. The old museum is still there set to one side, still with its own exhibits of its time, having been moved holo-bolus from its site in the village.

Tuesday's bingo was held as usual with Ray Smith calling and making a good job of it with helpers Betty Wise and Dorothy Iles and erstwhile helper Loretta Henderson all doing their stuff, earning our thanks.

We were saddened to learn of the death of Andrew Curry, one of our gang. Andrew was not able to fully participate in our various activities and of course, none of us are. We honour him mostly because he was a soldier in the first world war, having given his country his service in her hour of need. The Royal Canadian Legion will give him a "last post" as befitting a departed comrade.

Finally on Wednesday morning we managed to get a quite suitable day for a cruise on the Kashagawigamog chain of lakes aboard the Highland Queen, a specialty of Capt. Jim Tice, the skipper. The channel into Head Lake now being deep enough, we had to board at Deer Lodge, a most beautifully situated and landscaped lodge in this area, and given over exclusively to the folks like us, the senior citizens. It was a lovely cruise, especially on the hot muggy day like Wednesday was. A curious thing we noted was that other water craft, particularly the outboards, regardless of whether it was man or woman at the helm the throttle would invariably be wide open as though dealing with a stupendous challenge. They are curbed on the Haliburton roads but all out on the water. Those folk who have a cottage on the lakes we cruised on are the lucky ones.

When we trip about the countryside on the bus we see the prosperity of the people living there mostly by the tidiness of the buildings not because of any compulsion but because it is wanted. This orderliness just does not happen but requires work, but not as much work overall as leaving things helter skelter. It is much the same with behaviour, as we see in the trades, the professions and the service industries. It is remarkable how smoothly a dentist does his or her work, or a physician, a banker or even a farmer goes about his job simply because he knows how. Into this order we see two all too familiar disorders, strikes and riots, the latter bidding fair to take its place with the other three 'r's', - reading, writing, rithmetic and riots. Monday night we heard the lady president of the Woman Teacher Federation of Ontario interviewed, and the answer to a question put to her by the interviewer, "do you believe teachers have a right to strike?" was "I believe anyone has the right to do what they want and striking is one of them." This makes one think of what permissiveness lies ahead.

We have another member of the Happy Gang, Friday morning, Rev. Wallace Allison of St. Catharines, here because his family is also nearby. Already Wallace is one of our regulars, and once he gets into the swing will enjoy it.

Our big bed is still powder dry below three inches despite that lovely rain that fell on Friday. Unless the outside taps and hose are freely accessible and usable to all of us it is difficult to get enough moisture to the various flower beds. Some do get enough and are lovely.

Rev. Trevor Denny of St. George's Anglican Parish was our spiritual leader for the morning devotional period. Margaret Sisson (Syd) was the pianist and very enjoyable. The theme was "The fears of life" and the answer - faith, or trust or love of the Lord. This exhortation is very frequent throughout the Bible.

Saturday we took a second look over the rail fence to our neighbours and spied a wild morning glory vine in all its glory but with just three flowers. It is called the hedge bind weed, latin name convolvulus sepium and it is very unlikely the neighbour knows about it. A brief description says it wakes about 3 a.m. and folds about mid-day which it did. The same listing has the dandelion, latin taraxacum officinale, whose roots were used to make coffee in the pioneer days. The Quebecois calls it pissenlit because it was believed if a child ate a flower they would wet the bed that night. If that were so, it would not be very nice, and what a reputation. Just the same, this morning glory is very, very pretty, not white or pink, as the book says, but mauve.

We do not think this referendum bit is over yet, and will need a 'fish or cut bait' approach. Our bilingual program should be scrapped until Quebec is entrenched in Canada. How many will agree to that or do we need a referendum of our own to find out.

The boy and girl next door just celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary on Monday.

Stan and Elva Cooper who both grew up in West Guilford celebrated their anniversary on Sunday at the West Guilford community centre where friends and relatives came out to greet them.

The couple were married after Stan returned from the first world war. They had to travel to Minden to be married in the old Clergy House as the minister in the area had not been ordained.

Senior League

by Linda English

We began the week with fun and fitness Monday morning. After the session, a few residents went for a walk with Mrs. Jean Sweatman and thoroughly enjoyed the beautiful weather. Later in the afternoon, the ladies went downstairs to work on their projects in the craft room. In the evening, it was movie time in the auditorium. "How Jerry Got Smarter", was a cartoon form. It told us how you can be taken in by the sales pitch given us by door to door salesmen. The new business and consumer laws now protect the purchaser. The Final Ingredient dealt with health care and the proper administering of drugs. It told us the importance of taking medication as prescribed. We also saw how drugs are made, tested and packaged for the consumer.

Golden Harvest was a very interesting and colourful film. It took us to the central valleys of California where cling peaches are grown. There are 50,000 acres of trees, and the sight is breathtaking during blossom time. We saw the process of canning the fruit where 90,000 people are employed. Across The City And Into The Trees was filmed in Gatineau Park, 20 miles from Parliament Hill. The park is the home of the blue heron, and is filled with Canadian wildlife. Two million people visit each year to enjoy the beauty of nature in Gatineau Park. Our residents found all the movies very interesting.

Tuesday morning, Rev. David Barker held service in the chapel. Mrs. Agnes Taylor accompanied us on the organ while we sang some spiritual hymns. In the afternoon several residents gathered in the lounge for a game of bingo. We had a number of lucky winners of tokens which can be cashed in at the tuck shop. The Hyland Crest Auxiliary staff open the tuck shop several times each week. This shop provides incidentals at a nominal cost to add to the residents' comfort.

The ladies of the Harcourt Community Chapel brought a variety of sandwiches and goodies for the Thursday tea party. Our residents thoroughly enjoyed the food and visiting with these ladies.

Friday afternoon, Mrs. Grace Coburn accompanied by Fred Ballard on the piano led the sing song. We joined with Grace to sing many favourite hymns and songs.

I would like to encourage those who have family and friends living at Hyland Crest to visit regularly or to take them out to happenings in the community. Our aim is to help make life as pleasant and home-like as possible for the residents. Alone we cannot accomplish this; with your help we can be much more successful in making this a reality.

50th anniversary for Woodliffes

Joseph and Jean Woodliffe of Stoney Creek, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Saturday.

The couple, who have cottaged on Kushog Lake for 21 years, spend half of their year on their "little bit of heaven" and the other half in Stoney Creek.

They were married 50 years ago by Rev. Peter Bryce, a moderator of the United Church, in Toronto.

The couple have a son and daughter and five grandchildren who all live in Winona.

Mary Hartin Sr. wins Kinmount flower show

Mary Hartin Sr. won the overall points category at Kinmount flower show for another year in a row, last Thursday.

Hartin was more than 150 points above her nearest competitor in this year's event. Placing second overall was Guy Scott and third prize went to Penny Hartin.

In the garden competition the Irene McElwain Flower

Garden Trophy went to Barb Fountain, with second to Mary Hartin and third to Dave McNamara.

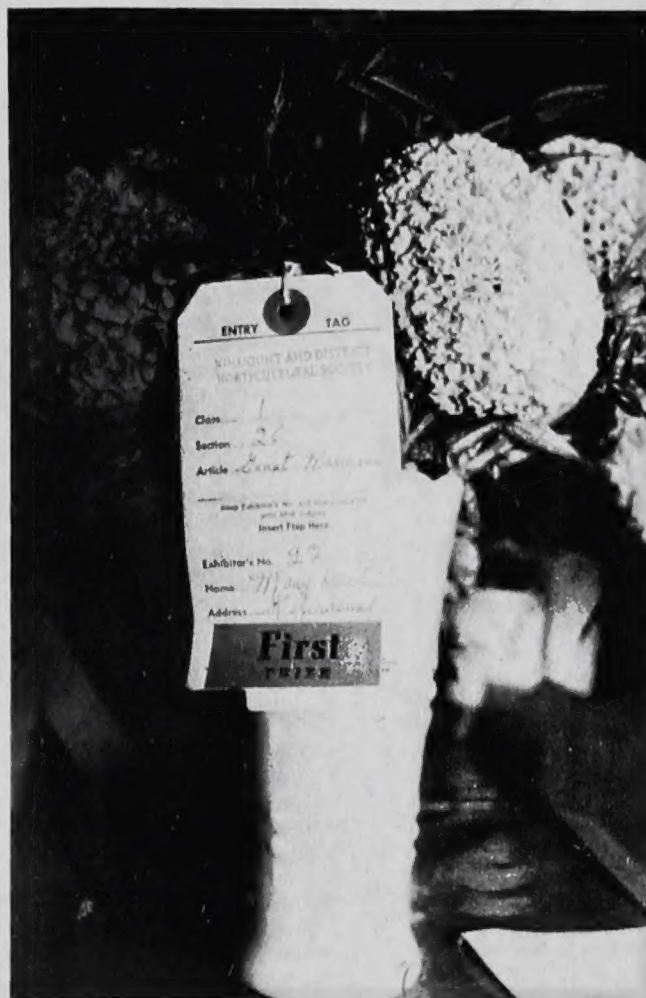

This year's show was held at the community centre for two hours in the afternoon and evening. The building with huge windows lit the room well for displaying the flowers.

Fresh flowers from gardens, floral arrangements and house plants were entered in many different classifications.

The Kinmount horticultural society served home-made doughnuts and coffee and tea for those interested florists who attended.

To be able to enter the flower show, the competitors must be members in good standing with the society.

Wilberforce News

Jane and Gerry Shier are the proud parents of a 6 lb. 12 oz. baby boy who was born at the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay on Tuesday, August 19. Jane is the daughter of Gertrude and Royce Godfrey of Wilberforce and Mary Innis, mother of Gerry, is the other happy grandparent. Best wishes for a happy future for this handsome youngster.

The five-day club for children recently held at the St. Margaret's Anglican Church, drew many children from this area. They met daily to enjoy singing songs and stories provided by Jeffrey Casey of Kingston. A very popular fellow at these outings was Grover the puppet. On the last day a party was held with children from Tory Hill joining in the fun. Canon Moore Smith assisted Mr. Casey through the week. Jackie Scott was presented with a book as a token of appreciation for her organization of the club. Sunday School commences on September 17.

The Wilberforce Rock-hound Fair of 1980 was a success in every way. This was very encouraging to Ken and Lynn Binskin who organized and directed this annual event.

So much local interest has been aroused in the hobby of rock-hounding that a club is being formed for those who would like to know more about rock and mineral collecting and about gem cutting. Many have submitted their names to become members and the first meeting of the group will take place on September 3 at 8 p.m. and will be held at the Binskin home located on highway 648 where Art and Ruth Saunders once lived. This is your chance to become acquainted with treasures available in our surrounding countryside and to develop a fascinating hobby.

August 16 was a particularly busy time in many different places. Among the events planned to please tourists and local residents was a chicken barbecue that took place at the Wilberforce Legion hall. When everyone works together you can obtain splendid results and the legion members went all out to present a memorable dinner. Special credit for the success of this event goes to Wally Marks, the organizer.

A hootnanny in the evening drew a great crowd who enjoyed a pleasant evening of fun and entertainment.

Coming up this weekend is a big auction sale to be held at the Legion Hall on Saturday, August 30 beginning at 1 p.m. and continuing until 4 p.m. You had better come early to get in on the bargains. That outstanding auctioneer, Sterling Mather, will be on hand to keep things rolling. At 5 p.m. a beef barbecue will be presented by the ladies of the Legion with baked beans and homemade pies. The dinner ends at 7 p.m.

At the firemen's bingo game on Thursday when the last number was called they had a winner. Miss Lori Anderson was winner of the jackpot. Her prize was $330. This brings to a close the bingo games at the Memorial Centre until next spring when a series of games will take place. Lori is a resident of Harcourt.

Sunday, August 24 was a special day at St. Margaret's Anglican Church when the boys choir from St. John the Baptist Norway church, of Toronto made this an exceptional service for all who Cleaning and scrubbing can wait until tomorrow. For babies grow up we've learned to our sorrow. So quiet down cobwebs. Dust go to sleep. I'm rocking my baby and babies don't keep... I like that!

Thanks for the friendly phone call on Monday Ruby Schell and thanks Ken Hyams, I do agree, there aren't many of our kind left! I'm so sorry you're still feeling poorly Margaret Kylie. Do get well soon, we all really miss you.

Helen and Alex Graham visited with Mary L. and John Pyke on Sunday.

Bill and I enjoyed a drive on Sunday over to Harcourt and area. There were lots of picnics at the Furnace Falls Park and a number of them were enjoying the water.

Visitors for a couple of days, at the home of Ruth and Bill Menard in Kinmount, this week, were Bill's sister, Mrs. Gertrude Jack of Toronto, her son David and his friend Pat, both of Windsor. Daughter Marie visited with Ruth and Bill Menard for the weekend from Toronto.

Gerard Allen from Alberta is visiting his mother, Kay Allen of Kinmount, this week.

Father Raymond Hart, Kinmount and Dr. Martin Young, Fenelon Falls, tied for first place on Sunday, August 17 at the Bee Hive Golf Course, playing nine holes in the Parish Tournament and Invitational. Their even score was a 38; two over par. I hear there were some very nice prizes being handed out and the activities were followed up by a nice dinner, served at the Bee Hive.

The jackpot of $150 was won Monday evening at the bingo held at St. Joseph's Hall in Bobcaygeon. There was a good crowd present, once again.

Visitors at the home of our new neighbours Joan and Ken Hyams over the weekend were Andrea, Sean and Ryan Lueck from Don Mills. Walter and Dorothy Cozens were Wednesday evening visitors and earlier in the week they had vacationing folk from England, Jack and Isobel Nelson with daughter Dorothy and her sons, Timothy and Andrew. Tuesday our busy Ken and Joan will make a return visit to the cottage where the English friends are at present staying.

Nice chatting with you Mary Hartin.

Last week I mentioned the bench by the Cenotaph which was placed by our Horticultural Society and now I'm told a second bench and a picnic table is being placed in the little park area near the Cenotaph, by the society and at a later date they will have plates added, denoting the fact they were put there by our very busy horticultural society.

Win and Bill Wilson, RR 1, Kinmount, had as guests last weekend, Joan, Harold, Jennifer, and Mike Mills of Pickering.

Marie and Bill Card of Jackson's Point are spending a camping week at Balsam Park and enjoyed a barbecue with Helen and Alex Graham at their home in Norland, Tuesday evening.

Paddyann DeFinney of Toronto has been visiting with Nora Brandon in Kinmount this week.

The euchre results at the St. Patrick's Hall in Kinmount, Tuesday evening were ladies' high: Ida Young, ladies' low: Eva Peacock, gents' high: David Anderson, gents' low: Ambrose Watson and most lone hands were held by Gordon Kellett. At this time, the euchre members would like to pass along a big thank you to the summer folk who attended the games and hope to see you next year and to all of you, still around, we'd enjoy having you come out and have an evening of fun each Tuesday evening.

Note to H.R.G. I hope this is the recipe you're looking for: Quick Apple Pudding: 2 tbs. butter, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 cup chopped apples, 6 tbs. milk. Cream butter and sugar. Sift dry ingredients and stir in chopped apples. Add to the creamed mixture alternately with milk. Pour into 1 1/2 qt. casserole. Sauce: 1 cup brown sugar, 1 tbs. butter, few grains of salt, 1 1/2 cups of boiling water, 1 tsp. vanilla. Combine sugar, butter and salt. Add boiling water and stir until sugar dissolves and butter is melted. Add vanilla, pour sauce over batter. Bake at 400 degrees F., 30 - 35 minutes.

Marie and Bill Card, Jackson's Point, spent Wednesday with Mary L. and John Pyke in Norland.

Dot and Joe Crego received a phone call and a letter recently, from son Ward who left for Calgary, Alberta, August 7. Ward says there's lots of employment out there and he's working as a glass cutter and likes it, so at the moment, intends making his home there but should be home for a visit at Xmas time.

Good luck to you Ward!

Now, to all you folks who like camping out, by way of a vacation. You know, you don't really have to travel too far from home to enjoy a lovely holiday. Mr. Helmut Bretschneider, who is Park Supt. at Balsam Lake Provincial Park and can be reached at 454-3324, was kind enough recently, to mail me a brochure of some of their "happenings" this summer and he thought you might like to know of them. On July 5 there was a Coleman Camping Equipment show; July 11 - Windsurfing movies; on the 12, a demonstration by Nahma Windsurfer School; July 26, Ministry of Environment showed movies - Insect Study and Forest/Field Study for Children; August 3 Canoe Ontario Demonstration; Aug. 9 Red Cross Small Craft Safety Demonstration showed a repeat on August 10. August 16 - Amateur Astronomy Night - Slide Show and Talk. August 24 - Ontario Trapper's Association Demonstration - 1 p.m. and on August 30, there'll be hay rides through the park - 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. every fall hour. Every Saturday night movies are shown at dusk. Of course there's the usual fun of swimming, cookouts, walks through beautiful parkland, making new friends and just being lazy. The "park people" are very friendly people who enjoy just being there to make you happy. Why not make plans now to visit one of our own lovely, vacation spots next year?

Did you know that those circular hills, steep sided and consisting of layered sand

Bancroft ladies team wins tourney

Powerful Guilford swing

The Bancroft Knee-his won the Wilberforce minor hockey ladies softball tournament for the second year in a row, last Sunday.

The finals were postponed from Country Good Times on July 20 when rain prohibited the players from finishing the second day of the tournament.

Guilford wins consolation

Playing in the championship match against the Knee-his was another Bancroft team, McMurray Shell. The match was close for nearly all of the game with the Knee-his coming out on top 7-3.

The winners were presented with $100 and trophies.

In the consolation championship, West Guilford ladies' team defeated Coboconk easily 26-13. West Guilford's team was awarded $50 and trophies.

Earlier in the day, the semi-finals were completed with Coboconk beating Wilberforce 15-2.

With 14 of the victor's runs being scored in the first two innings, the Wilberforce ladies' team tightened up their play making the remainder of the game exciting.

Another semi-final game saw two Bancroft teams meet face-to-face as McMurray Shell defeated Price Ford 16-6. This was also a good game until the fifth inning when McMurray Shell moved ahead with 12 runs.

Dorset News

"He is strong who conquers others, he who conquers himself is mighty."

There is a street dance coming up. The Dorset Lion's Club is holding their one and only for the summer on Saturday, August 30 at the Dorset Community Centre.

And who knows what a Shivarree is? Well, it's a celebration that usually happens after a wedding. But this time it was a celebration of an anniversary. A group of 35, mostly relatives, arrived at the home of John and Eldred MacKay, on the evening of August 15, which was their 40th wedding anniversary and serenaded them, then took the group by car and truck through the village, with noise-makers going full tilt and horns blowing. The couple said it was just like when they were married. They all ended up at the home of Don and Peggy MacKay, the John MacKay's son and daughter-in-law, where refreshments were served and a social evening was spent. The 15th was also the 21st anniversary of the wedding of Eleanor Avery and Russ Burton. We offer congratulations to both couples.

Barbara (Clayton) and Carlo Bevilacqua became the proud parents of a baby girl, weighing 9 lbs., on August 13 at St. Joseph's hospital, in North Bay. Angela is a sister for two-year old Amy. The Bevilacquas reside in North Bay.

One of our teachers at Dorset elementary school, Mrs. Ruth McLennan just finished a course presented by the Women's Teacher's Federation at Hidden Valley. The course was an introduction to teaching and techniques used to help children with learning disabilities. Teachers attended from all over the province and it was of their own volition and at their own expense. They are to be commended for their interest in this work.

The Anglican ladies are holding a bake sale at the church on Friday, August 29, at 1:30 p.m. Attend and get your supply of goodies for the weekend.

Tom and Jessie Wilson and their two daughters from Burlington are spending some time at the Kerr Cottage on the hill. Jessie's maiden name was Kerr.

ing anniversary on August 18 while guests at the Gillis' home.

Congratulations to Gladys Silver on her jackpot bingo win at Kinmount Legion, Friday night. "Gladie" won $170, on the 57th number.

Re my article last week on Jason's special day: his Godfather was stated as his Uncle Ray, when in reality it should have said "Roy Rivers". A misprint, sorry about that.

I've been told that the judges of our flower show said they were very impressed with our lovely displays and were quite surprised that we had so many to show what with all the rain and nasty weather we've had. We'll show them we can even do better next year, won't we folks?

Stay well, have a happy day. 488-2399.

Farm News and Views

The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food has recently announced a Sow-Weaner Stabilization Program.

This is a volunteer program. Producers sign up for a five-year period.

The program is set up on six-month periods. The first period is April 1, 1980 to September 30, 1980. Since a payment is expected from this period, fees for enrollment are deferred. Fees normally will be one-third of the estimated payment for a given six-month period. For every $1 that a producer contributes to the program, the Ontario government will contribute $2. Fees are paid on a per sow basis. Payout is calculated on eight market hogs per sow per six-month period.

A separate account is kept for each producer. At the end of the five-year period, any balance in the producer's account is returned with interest.

Payout is made whenever hog prices fall below 95% of the previous five-year average.

The minimum number of sows enrolled is four. The maximum number for a single owner is 100, for a partnership of two farms, the maximum is 200. 300 sows is maximum for a multi-farm operation.

Deadline for registration is September 1, 1980. All producers have received brochures and application forms.

The program is designed to protect producer income against a drop in market prices.

Producers are encouraged to enroll in the program.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

We are fast losing summer; and where has it gone? It seems no time since the children went home in glee that they would have two whole months of fun and gaiety, but here we are with school starting again next week.

Talking to the young folk, of those I asked "Will you be glad to get back to school?", very few gave a negative answer.

Just remember that the school buses will be on the roads next week and when it is stopped with lights flashing, be sure you stop too. The law is to stop either behind the bus or meeting it, and if you obey the law there is much less chance of accidents. It will take a little time for everyone to get back into the groove again, so for goodness sake be careful on the roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Graham enjoyed their holiday on the west coast.

When driving up or down Prince Street, slow down at the Chandos Street corner and enjoy the beautiful flowers around the home of Bob Hughes. He sure has a green thumb where flowers are concerned.

Mrs. Dorothy McCallum, daughter Lori and son David enjoyed a holiday last week with their aunt, Mrs. Ben Harrison.

The United Church of Canada has appointed a lady minister as their Moderator. As women's lib would say, this is a first.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cox and Dana Hughes spent the weekend in Mississauga with Mr. and Mrs. Blake Hughes and girls.

The Minden playground gave a lot of youngsters much enjoyment this summer. The new additions to the playground were very thrilling and much credit and thanks must go to all who participated in making it larger and better.

Congratulations to Mrs. Nancy Mason of Cosy Cabins who was the winner of the 14" black and white T.V. which was drawn for at Stedman's Store last Saturday.

Lenora Miller and Joshy arrived for a short visit with parents Don and Mae Wolfraim before taking Hardy back with them to Tarzana, California.

The Minden and District Horticultural Society will be meeting at the municipal building in Minden on Tuesday, September 2 at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brownridge of Scarborough spent the weekend at their cottage.

When one drives along the highways, one notices that on the signs that the 80 or 70 is in large enough lettering that it can be seen for quite a distance but the km/h. is really small underneath. No wonder motorists travel at 80 instead of the regular speed especially if they aren't used to the proper speeds on our highways. Metric is crazy in some ways!

Mrs. Amy Milligan and Bernice of Newtonville spent a week with Mrs. Maude Coulter recently.

The United Church Women will hold their first meeting of fall at the United Church Hall on Wednesday, September 3, 8 p.m.

Marjorie Cooke (Cookie) of Scarborough has been visiting with Sandy and Irene Stewart.

Pickling time is upon us so here is a recipe for "Diet Chili Sauce". 18 tomatoes; 2 medium onions; 3 tbsp. artificial sweetener; 2 cups vinegar; 2 tsp. salt; 2 green peppers; 2 stalks celery. Peel and chop tomatoes, prepare peppers, onions and celery and chop

Norland Notebook by Barbara Maunder

The "Meals on Wheels" program has proven to be a very successful venture and a boon to shut-ins. The number of elderly people receiving the nutritious, delicious hot and cold dinners has varied from 12 to 18 depending on the time of year and the plans of the interested persons. However, the program does need more volunteers to help cook the meals and also to assist with the delivery of them. It is not hard work, very rewarding and with enough volunteers it would only involve one Wednesday morning every five to six weeks. Some of the volunteers are no longer helping with this community service and much of the work has fallen on the shoulders of a few. If you can spare about two hours on a Wednesday morning to cook or half an hour to deliver the prepared food, please call Valerie Shepherd, co-ordinator (454-3744). She would be most delighted to hear from you and your assistance would be greatly appreciated.

The Foot Care Clinic for senior citizens which was started a few months ago is continuing. It is on the second Tuesday of each month and if you are interested in attending, please contact Coboconk Medical Centre (454-3375) for an appointment. The clinic is held in the Norland Pioneer Baptist Church hall from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. Tuesday morning and in Christ Anglican Church from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Tuesday afternoon.

The Norland Women's Institute invite all interested ladies to their popular and special "Grandmothers Meeting" in the institute hall on Wednesday, September 3 at 1:30 p.m. You do not have to be a grandmother to attend and enjoy this afternoon of fellowship and fun. A film will be shown with games and prizes and refreshments on the agenda also.

The Norland U.C.W. Opportunity Shop has had a busy and successful season. Many of the summer articles are now on sale and bargains are even better than before. There is a large selection of nearly new fall coats, sweaters, pants and skirts for women, men and children so plan to come in soon and purchase these good values for all of the family. After Labour Day weekend the shop will be open on Saturdays only from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. and is situated beside the Norland post office.

The next township council meeting will be held in township office on Wednesday, September 3 at 7:30 p.m. instead of the usual first Tuesday of the month. While clerk-treasurer Vern LeCraw is on holidays from September 8 to 20 the office will be closed except on Wednesday, September 10 and 17 and Saturday, September 13 and 20 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. when building inspector, Bradley Bradmore will be there to discuss building permits, etc.

Rev. Kenneth and Mrs. Crawford have just returned from vacation and a two-week tour of four Canadian west and Pacific coast. They had an enjoyable trip with excellent scenery and good weather for the most part.

Mrs. Brenda Chynoweth and Gayle were hostesses at a miscellaneous baby shower for Susan Lightfoot (nee England) on Sunday, August 17 in Norland community hall. Susan received many lovely and useful gifts for her expected new arrival.

The Deck Hands will present their puppet shows "Frog Prince" and "Eeyore Loses His Tail" in Norland Public Library from 3:30 to 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday, August 27. It is free of charge and all children are invited to come.

The last Kawartha Summer Theatre play of the season is entitled "Some of These Days" and is being presented in the Academy Theatre, Lindsay from August 26 to 30. It is a newly written musical show based loosely on the history of Victoria County and suitable for all of the family to view and enjoy.

Bride-to-be Karen Kenny was feted at a bridal shower given in her honour by Linda Lee at the Community Hall on Sunday, August 24. Karen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kenny and Brian Chynoweth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Chynoweth are being married on Saturday, August 30. Following their marriage, a reception and party will be held in Norland Community Hall. Our best wishes to the happy couple.

Kinmount Fair will be the place to see many Norland people on Labour Day holiday weekend, Saturday August 30 and 31. "The Fair with the forward look," will open with a gala parade at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday and special guests Peggy Sue and Sunny Wright will perform at the grandstand in afternoon and in evening at the dance. Peggy Sue is a sister of well-known country singers Loretta Lynn and Crystal Gale. A demolition derby will be featured at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday. There will also be a midway, games of chance, exhibits, horse draws, etc. for all to enjoy both days of the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Bresner of Hamilton spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bud Stamp.

We adults "do" have something in common with teenagers: They listen to rock groups and we listen to economists - and neither of us understands a word they're saying.

Dr. and Mrs. Lodenquai and sons have been having a well earned holiday on the East Coast.

Visitors with Mrs. Ern Hewitt over the weekend were Colin, Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hewitt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Beattie and family.

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson were Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacDonald and Gwen also, Paul Davidson, all of Thornbury.

Carol Beers of Cambridge, daughter Linda Cooper and her girls from British Columbia, visited friends and relatives in the area recently.

Old age is when you know all the answers but nobody asks you the questions? Fern Bresner of Kapuskasing is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Irene Stamp this week.

Leta Sanders of Havelock who taught school in this area at one time has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cooper, as well as friends and former pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dawkins and Beverley of Rexdale are spending this week at their cottage. Last Sunday was the Walter Welch family picnic at Soyers Lake.

There are many issues that the Premier of Ontario does not concur on but I admire his stand on the oil issue for it is hard to stand alone for just rights. I also admire the letter he had recently in the Toronto Star regarding the flag of Ontario when he stated there was no intention by the government to amend the provincial flag act of 1965 or changing the flag. The Maple Leaf is for all Canadians but why a few should make such a fuss over the provincial flag is beyond me. We all have different heritages but come together in Canada under the maple leaf.

"Recipe for a Child" No matter who the child may be and no matter what his boat,

An understanding parent is what he needs the most.

A child doesn't need wealth or toys, or mansions great and tall; Just give him your attention and a bit of love, that's all.

When he comes to you for knowledge, don't push him from your side.

Have a little patience with him - be pleased to be his guide.

Listen to his troubles, his heartaches - trials at school; Be firm, but teach him gently to live by the Golden Rule. When years fly by, and he's grown, you'll surely be the one. To hear these words sincerely said, "I'm proud to be your son." Adios and take care now.

Europeans studied goldenrod growth in Haliburton Highlands this spring

Among the visitors to the Haliburton Highlands this season were several botanists who came to study certain of our plants. One of these was a young woman from Poland on an interesting mission from the University of Krakow. For a few days in May she was our guest and while observing the flora of this region as she is doing in several other parts of Canada she was studying in particular the early stages of the Canada Goldenrod (Solidago canadensis). Strange as it may seem this species which is usually confined to the North American continent has somehow got itself firmly established in Poland and is spreading so rapidly it is the botanists' concern to study its growth habits in its native land and devise a plan to control it over there.

We are familiar with the migration of plants from the old world to this continent and we have a long list of established species in Canada which had their origin in Europe. Many arrived with the early settlers by design, or by chance - as tiny seeds have often travelled from one country to another attached to luggage or other cargo. Plants have not as often travelled from Canada to Europe simply because the migration of people has largely been in this direction.

Goldenrods spread by underground stems as well as by seed and their growing period is a long one - from early spring plants to the late summer and fall blooms. The Canada Goldenrod is one of the most common species of which there are about twelve in southern Ontario. Unfortunately, many goldenrod species are very difficult to tell apart but the Canada Goldenrod can usually be distinguished by its leaf which is toothed on the edges and has a pair of prominent, deep veins paralleling the mid-rib.

The Grass-leaved Goldenrod (Solidago graminifolia), also called Lance-leaved, is easily recognized by its very narrow leaves and its small flat-topped flower heads. In fact it hardly looks like a goldenrod at all - but it is fairly abundant.

Less common but noticeable in form is the Stout Goldenrod (Solidago squarrosa), a coarser plant with stiff, thick stem and a narrow column of larger flowers.

A plant visited by two botanists from Ottawa last month is a particularly fine specimen of the Large Round-leaved Orchid (Halenaria orbiculata) growing alone in a Minden Township woods. This particular plant is a rarity in that it is of a special variety of the species with very long spurs to its flowers, and it is seldom found. A detailed study of flowers, and it is seldom found. A detailed study of the species and its distribution is being made by these botanists in preparation for publication. Should anyone know the location of other plants of this species (either the long spurred or the shorter spurred variety) and care to contribute their knowledge for the distribution records please contact us through Box 317, Haliburton. It is a beautiful plant with a pair of hand-sized round leaves lying flat upon the ground and a spike of dainty pale green flowers standing upright between them. The leaves are recognizable long after flowering time.

Gooderham News

by Mary Hadley

Gooderham Horseshoe Days have come and gone! Weather conditions were most favourable but attendance was not quite up to expectation since there were many other special events in neighbouring communities. However, those present seemed to enjoy themselves. The three-legged man again was generous in his unique presentation which is always so well received and anticipated. A senior citizens' group presented a Scottish dance, "Jessie's Hornpipe", under the direction of Dorothy Robertson and Jack Gedney. Jack also called for a square dance performed by senior citizens with one "not-so-senior" helping out. Mr. Avery Spencer deserves special thanks for a super job as M.C. Parks and Recreation Board sponsored the event and also deserve thanks for their untiring efforts, even to the extent of some members being dunked in the splash tank, thus adding to the coffers.

Mrs. Audrey Prentice is visiting at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Edwards, in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Berg and daughters, Linda and Karen, spent a few days with Jackie's mother, Mrs. Claribel Sheehan.

Mr. Orville Bunting of Midland, Michigan, visited friends in the community last week.

Friends of Walter Madill are sorry to know he has been laid up but hope he'll soon be able to be up and about again.

We are glad to report that Floyd Dovell is progressing favourably following surgery in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough.

Mr. Ken Webster has returned from Civic Hospital, Peterborough following a second trip there. His friends hope he'll soon regain his usual health.

Visitors of Mr. Garnet Hadley at his home here last weekend were members of his family: Marjorie and John Hallam, and Edna and Harold Morgan, of Minden; Jean and Charles Hadley of Toronto, Shirley and Reg. McGrath of Hagersville and Kathleen and Peter Hadley of Oakville, with their small son, Kevin.

A joyous note to the family celebration was the news of the birth of Garnet's great grandson, in Toronto on Saturday - a son for Peggy and Harold Morgan! Congratulations!

Fay and Victor Snyder of Bowmanville visited Mr. and Mrs. Theo Peacock last weekend.

Visitors of Mrs. Ruby Maxwell for the weekend were Marion and George Maxwell, with their two sons, of Toronto and Hazel and Aubrey Maxwell of Minden.

Anson, Hindon and Minden

read departments were directed to investigate the matter.

D. Ewart and V. Hodgson approached council concerning the resolution which was passed at the council meeting held July 23 last and requested council to permit them to proceed to the O.M.B. with the original plan of 17 lots.

Council formed a committee of the whole.

D. Morrison, planner then addressed council on behalf of B. Tail advising that his client's main concern with the plan was density and that both he and his client were prepared to discuss the plan with the developers. Council deferred the matter until the September 10 meeting.

Council had no objections to a minor variance application by Thomas R. Weir in Lot 12, Concession 13, Township of Minden, to construct an open sun deck with a roof 31 feet from the normal high water mark.

Council had no objections to a minor variance application by Robert and Elaine Taylor in Lot 15, Concession 2, Township of Minden to construct an addition to their existing cottage 15 feet from the normal high water mark.

Tender information was received from the Provisional County of Haliburton.

Council accepted the tender of Marathon Equipment Ltd. to supply one 1980, U.P.S. 400 tube firing maintenance distributor at a cost of $5,358.00 plus O.S.T., subject to the approval of M.T.C.

Council agreed in principle with the proposed severances on property owned by J. Magwood in Lot 24, Concession 3, Township of Minden.

Council agreed with the severance proposed in Lot 3, Concession A, Township of Anson, to be added to Lot 35, Plan 593.

G. Mon, and Mrs. J. Payne, members of the Cemetery Board were present when the three tenders were opened to construct $1 feet of the fence at Minden Cemetery. Council and committee agreed to contact B. Stevenson the lowest bidder, to discuss the cost involved to construct only two sections of fence.

Councillor McKnight declared an interest in Cheque #4371 and 4372 and refrained from discussion or voting thereon.

The following accounts were approved for payment: general, $69,528.63; water, $8,722.35; and sewer, $1,481.50.

P.W.D. accounts in the amount of $63,248.69 were approved for payment.

The Minden Curling and Recreation Centre Committee has earned campaign funds towards the construction of a new building to be erected on municipal property in Lot 5, Concession A, Township of Minden; council agreed to absorb up to $20,000 financial costs incurred by the committee as a result of this project.

The municipality and G. Saunders were authorized to prepare tender documents for the construction of the new cultural centre.

By-law 80-42, a by-law to amend Restricted Area By-law 14-67, as amended, to rezone certain lands in Lot 2, Concession A, in the Township of Minden, was passed.

Remember the saying "You don't have anything if you don't have your health". It's true.

Legionaires and LaRue team battle in final championship

down through the second inning, too, with the legionaires putting in three runs in the bottom frame.

Tallying up the runs for the legionaires were Sisson, Kevin Harrison and Sheldon Nichols.

The motormen finally made it on the scoreboard in the third with Ron Perrin starting off the runs, followed by Mark Schell and Mike Carpenter.

But the score wasn't tied for long as Bob MacNaull, Harrison and Craig Wood came across the plate for the legionaires.

The next two innings saw the two teams remain scoreless but the motormen came up with two more runs in the top of the sixth. Paul Wilson marked up one run for the motormen, while Paul Madden brought in the other.

The game ended after both teams had a fruitless seventh inning.
Bernie Nichols was the winning pitcher while Mark Schell took the loss.

In the first game of the best two out of three championship finals, last Thursday, the LaRue motormen beat the legionaires in a close 5 - 4 decision.

It was a fast moving, highly skillful game that saw three home-runs being hit and some good defensive plays.

The motormen started off with a fine first inning as Scott LaRue came home after stealing his way half way around the bases.

The legionaires were never in the game for the first four innings as they remained without a single score.

In the second inning Tom Curry marked up another run for the motormen as he also stole two bases away from the legionaires.

In the bottom of the fourth inning the motormen widened their lead to 4 - 0 as Greg Bishop and Ed Roberts both came home.

Finally in the fifth inning the luck of the legionaires changed for the better with Mike Rae hitting a home-run. Craig Wood also made it home on an error by the motormen.

In the sixth inning, Bernie Nichols followed suit as he blasted the ball out into the farthest realms of the outfield for a home-run. Kevin Sisson also came home on the play.

With the score tied in the bottom of the sixth, Ken Griffen became the hero of the game as he hit a home-run to edge the motormen back into the lead.

The legionaires couldn't bring another run in the top of the seventh when the game was called.

The winning pitcher was Sid Cooper with Bernie Nichols taking the loss for the legionaires.

Ladies softball playoffs

Paul and Marg Fielding played very strong defensively and helped the Srs. into the finals. Andrea Burk was the winning pitcher while Nancy Maughan took the loss.

The finals start Wednesday night at the Haliburton diamond between West Guilford and the Minden Srs.

Don't forget to get your tickets on the trip to Jamaica which will be drawn at our banquet which will be held September 26 at the Haliburton Canadian Legion.

Ringette at camp

practically every weekend in January through March.

The newness of the sport shows through when Cormier says the provincial championships have been held for the past six years and the nationals for only the last two years.

In ringette the girls are divided into five groups according to the age, similar to hockey. Petites are eight, nine and 10; tweens are 11 and 12; juniors are 13 and 14; belles are 15, 16 and 17 and Debs are 18 and over.

There are also ladies leagues in the province but they are not regulated by the Ontario Ringette Association.

On Thursday evening at 9:30 p.m. the instructors of the camp will be playing a game if anyone is interested in seeing exactly how the game is played. There will be no admission charge.

Also on Saturday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. the girls will be playing some fun games if any spectators care to watch.

And who knows, the girls in Haliburton might soon be saying, "look out hockey, here comes ringette."

attended. We are fortunate to be able to hear these lovely trained voices under the direction of Mr. Ken Reid, choir master. The boys are enjoying a vacation of camping near Lake Wilberforce. The church was full to overflowing with an appreciative congregation.

There will be a country and western dance on Saturday, August 30 at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Hall. This event is being sponsored by the Wilberforce Curling Club.

Fitness.
It gives much more than it takes.

NON-SMOKERS CAN BREATHE EASY ON INSURANCE

If you don't smoke, the chances are we can save you money. As an agent for Maplex General Insurance, we offer lower-than-average rates on car insurance and on homeowner and tenant policies. Why the savings? Because statistics prove non-smokers are generally more responsible people. So why should they get burned on their insurance?

MUNICIPALITY OF DYSART ET AL NOTICE

IN THE MATTER OF THE MUNICIPAL ACT AND IN THE MATTER OF A PROPOSED BY-LAW OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF DYSART ET AL TO STOP UP, CLOSE AND CONVEY A PORTION OF PART OF THE ORIGINAL 66 FOOT ROAD ALLOWANCE BETWEEN LOTS 20 AND 21, CONCESSION 4, IN THE TOWNSHIP OF HAVELOCK, IN THE PROVISIONAL COUNTY OF HALIBURTON.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, pursuant to Chap. 284, Sec. 443 of the Municipal Act as amended, that the Township Council of the Municipality of Dysart et al proposes to consider and if deemed advisable, to pass at its regular meeting to be held at the Council Chambers, Haliburton, Ontario on Monday, October 13, 1980, a By-law to Close, Stop up and Convey the following:

ALL AND SINGULAR that certain parcel or tract of land and premises, situate, lying and being in the Township of Havelock in the Provisional County of Haliburton, and being all that part of the original allowance for road between Lots 20 and 21, Concession IV, in the Township of Havelock, lying North of Little Kennisis Drive, Registered Plan 436, and South of the original allowance for road 66 feet in perpendicular width laid out along the shore of Little Kennisis Lake.

WHICH SAID parcel or tract of land may be further illustrated, shown outlined in red on a Plan of Survey by H.C. Bishop, O.L.S., dated August 15, 1980, and which Plan of Survey is available for inspection at the Municipality of Dysart et al Office, Haliburton, Ontario.

AND TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that before passing the said By-law and its meeting to be held at the time and place above mentioned the Township Council of the Municipality of Dysart et al shall then and there hear in person or by his Counsel, Solicitor or Agent, any person who claims that his land will be affected by the same By-law and who applies to be heard.

DATED AT HALIBURTON, Ontario this 25th day of August, 1980.
